

A get-together of commodity experts in Geneva

Commodity markets are getting increasingly interconnected and independent as a result of globalization. This combined with new technologies and other challenges makes decision making more and more complex. The lunch event provides a platform to exchange views. In particular the interdisciplinary nature of participants (with people from trading houses, production companies, commodity finance, asset management and research) gives each one interesting insights and different point of views in order to enhance decision making in today's complex environment.

In order to bring the experts of the two organisations (Commodity Club and HSG Alumni Club Commodities) together and to join forces, we decided to organize a lunch event in Geneva.

Details on the organizers:

Commodity Club Switzerland: The business club aims to bring together business professionals and leaders, who are actively involved in the commodity industry in Switzerland. The club offers the opportunity to socialise among individuals with similar interests, to exchange know-how and to make and expand business connections on an interdisciplinary basis. HSG Alumni Club Commodities: The intention of the HSG Alumni Club Commodities is focused on getting together all HSG Alumni, who are working in the commodity industry and are interested in discussing about commodity related issues and sharing their experiences. We also give a chance to students at the University of St. Gallen to get in contact with professionals in the commodity sector.

We are looking forward to seeing you at our event.
